

IF YOU PLANT IT, THEY WILL COME!

Try This Easy-to-Grow California Native: California Poppy

YELLOW-FACED
BUMBLEBEE

Favorite foods: Nectar & Pollen

Favorite garden plant: California Poppy

Eschscholzia californica

What do you notice about this insect?

What do you wonder about this insect?

What does it remind you of?

This native bumblebee has a distinctive yellow head and abdomen stripe. An overwintering or hibernating queen emerges in spring and will establish a small colony in an abandon burrow. As her progeny multiply, poppies in the garden come alive with busy buzzing!

See them in the garden: Spring – Fall